About Delta Marine Crewing

Delta Marine Crewing is a manning agency in Vlissingen. Every day, our inspired crew managers bring employers and employees together, ensuring that projects – anywhere in the world – are supplied with a constant qualified workforce.

A WORLDWIDE OPERATION

Delta Marine Crewing makes use of their worldwide office network to quickly and effectively source top-rate candidates for their clients. We have a thorough understanding of the businesses and the projects our clients operate within. Whether they specialise in merchant shipping, towage, offshore, dredging, tanker operations, yachting, ship delivery or heavy lift cargo, we will deliver highly compatible crew members who are fully capable of completing the required tasks.

We pride ourselves in the fact that we are fully aware of the strengths and abilities of our seafarers and what motivates them, which makes our operation fast, effective and personal.

AT HOME WITHIN THE BUSINESS SECTOR

All crew managers at Delta Marine Crewing have a broad shipping background. With our team of 7, we collaborate extensively with each other, and all 7 are fully aware of the current projects in play. The beauty of this for our clients is, that no matter who you talk to, we will be able to offer you instant advice and answer any questions you may have. Delta Marine Crewing excels itself in supporting large projects, when necessary our managers will join forces, which ensures you enjoy the same level of service and attention with large projects as you do with smaller ones.

Shipowners Shipping companies/Employers

Whether you are looking for a new crewmember urgently or for a full crew, we will provide a fully qualified, motivated seafarer who is available quickly. Delta Marine Crewing makes use of an impressive global network of available mariners in a wide range of sectors. In addition, we have an international network of both our own offices, and highly qualified agents abroad. With this infrastructure, we can fulfil any personnel requirement.
